"How much do you love me?"

"I love you as much as I love my life," she answered.

"Very good," said the man and gave her a kiss. Next, he asked the second daughter the same question.

"I love you more than anything else in the world," she answered.

"Good!" he said and touched her *cheek softly. Then he turned to the youngest daughter called Natalie.

"What?! The dish will taste terrible if you don't put any salt in it," the cook answered, (⑪) Natalie asked again and again. So the cook finally accepted her *request.

When all the guests sat down at the table and started to have the dish, they soon stopped eating and looked at each other's face. Nothing tasted good. Especially the meat tasted terrible. At that moment, Natalie's father started to cry.

"What's the matter?" Natalie came and asked.

"I had a daughter I loved so much. And I asked her, 'How much do you love me?' And she answered, 'As much as fresh meat loves salt.' I got angry and kicked her out of the house because I thought she didn't love me (⑫) all. But now I understand she loved me best of all."
